

NEWS

Tesla Scraps Factory Paint Protection Wrap For Its Unpainted Cybertruck

Tesla's factory wrapping service for the stainless steel Cybertruck has been out of stock for almost a year and is now officially dead

By Owen Bellwood Published 7 hours ago | Comments (22)

Whether its wrapped black or left silver, the Cybertruck still looks trash. Photo: Daniel Golson/Twitter

Tesla reportedly scrapped its factory wrapping service for the Cybertruck after less than a year on sale this week. The wrapping service, which is designed to protect paintwork on cars from chips or rust that might be picked up in daily drives, has been removed from the Tesla site after being sold out since January.

Suggested Reading

2025 Mini Cooper Convertible Is Still An Exuberant Droptop That's Unapologetic About Prioritizing Fun

This Nissan Murano CrossCabriolet With A Working Top Might Be The Rarest Convertible In The World

Life Is Beautiful: Alpine Will Run An All-Pink Livery Again

Watch: Tesla's Cybertruck Has Finally Arrived

Suggested Reading

2025 Mini Cooper Convertible Is Still An Exuberant Droptop That's Unapologetic About Prioritizing Fun

This Nissan Murano CrossCabriolet With A Working Top Might Be The Rarest Convertible In The World

Life Is Beautiful: Alpine Will Run An All-Pink Livery Again

Tesla's Cybertruck Has Finally Arrived

The Cybertruck wrapping service kicked off in December 2023 and promised to offer a layer of protection on the electric truck for the low, low price of $6,000. The optional wrap could be ordered in 11 colors and sold out almost as soon as it went on sale.

CONTINUE READING

Here Are 29 of the Coolest Gifts for This 2024

"This list is Amazing! I already have all my gift shopping done for the year!!"

Trending Gadgets | Sponsored

Shop Now

Remote Jobs in the USA from Brazil: Salaries That Will Astonish You!

Remote Jobs | Search Ads | Sponsored

Abrir o vinho com saca-rolhas é o pior erro que você pode cometer. O motivo? É surpreendente!

Dicas de Vinho Blog | Sponsored

Premiado abridor de vinhos de pressão chega ao Brasil. O preço? É surpreendente

Dicas de Vinho Blog | Sponsored

O novo Chevrolet Equinox é a perfeição (Dê uma olhada)

Nova revolução do Chevrolet Equinox. Veja os preços agora!

Chevrolet Equinox | Links Patrocinados | Sponsored

Saiba mais